Quote of the Week, from Phil Bolger, legendary boat designer, when asked for his thoughts on a sail-powered ice boat:

“When it comes to iceboats, I have the advantage of having had no first-hand experience at all. A machine designed to generate wind-chill factors down toward absolute zero is not my idea of a vehicle for enjoying winter.”

Tasks for this week:

Write up a no-more-than 4 page report on each of two topics in our class sonobouy project, due in class February 18.

Homework:

Continue instrument design projects.

Next Graded Exercise

Wednesday February 13 we will hold an in-class oral design review at the white board. Come to class prepared to contribute.
